e will come when your bedt will been and then God grant that it can you led the life suc nas, and that going home; that you led lives of that eterani home which port worthy of that eterani and which Christ has gone to prepare for those who love and serve him on earth. Let those who remain behind, and who loved her dearly, and who made the evening of her life as beautiful and as calm and as happy as it was possible for a human being to be—let them remember that she lived a life that was honorable, a life of purity, a life without a speck or a stain in any way, and went spotless to the grave atter a long life of over seventy years.

What a grand legacy to leave to humanity? If people only followed her life, and if only every woman was like ber, what a beautiful world we would have. Let them remember and think of their mother. The mother's example is the most powerful for good or evil. Would nervousness were very prominent symptoms.

"Late in the summer I went to visit a sister and there I saw and used Grape-Nuts. I had heard of this famous food before, but never was interested enough to try it, for I never knew how really good it was. But when I came home we used Grape-Nuts in our household all the time and I soon began to note changes in my health. I improved steadily and am now strong and well in every way and am back at school able to get my lessons with ease and pleasure and can remember them, too, for the improvement in my mental power is very noticeable and I get good marks in my studies, which always seemed difficult before.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR A. F. MALLETT-PERJURY CHARGE.

The fourteen indictments found against Former Justice of the Peace

Gustav Kroeger by the last district grand jury were quashed yesterday morning in the district court upon the motion of County Attorney George Westervelt. The move of the county attorney was concurred in by District Attorney Dennis C. Eichnor. He ex-plained to the court that the evidence at hand was not sufficient to secure convictions.

A few hours later Mr. Kroeger swore to four complaints against A. F. Mallett, charging him with perjury. Warrants were issued by Judge H. S. Tanner, who held court for Judge Chris Diehl, and, upon the motion of the county attorney, fixed the bail at $1,000 —$250 on each information. The warrants were immediately placed in the hands of the sheriff for service. About 10 o'clock last night Mr. Mallett, who lives at the corner of Twelfth South and Ninth East, was arrested. He gave bonds before Judge Tanner.

The indictments against Mr. Kroeger and the complaints filed against Mr. Mallett are connected with the alleged improper practices of Francis G. Luke in the management of the Merchants' Protective agency, of which he is the manager. The former justice was charged by the grand jury, in substance, with being implicated with Luke in the conduct of his business. The charges against Mallett are ness. The charges against Mallett are perjury in swearing to documents for the agency in the former justices' court.

The quashing of the fourteen indictments against Mr. Kroeger finally disposes of twenty-four of the twenty-five indictments found by the last district grand jury. The one remaining is against James A. Luke, charged with perjury in the grand jury room. The other informations against himself and his brother were quashed by Judge Morres because of their defect. iveness. S. M. Martin, M. D., writes the following for the American Journal of Health of New York, and says: "Well entitled to a place among genuine specifics is Oil of Eden, offered by Dr. John L. Kellett of Oakland, Cai., for the cure of rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred complaints. This we are willing to indorse in very distinct terms, because we have secured abundant evidence justifying us in doing so. Having referred the question of the efficacy of this remedy to medical men of extensive experience, and at the same time having thoroughly looked up the record it has made for itself among the people who have used it, we secured a mass of positive evidence in its favor."

Dr. F. S. Ferrill, Forest City, Ark., says he had a good reputation for treating rheumatism, but he failed in every endeavor to cure his wife until he got the Oil.

Dr. F. S. Ferrill, Forest City, Ark., says he had a good reputation for treating rheumatism, but he failed in every endeavor to cure his wife until he got the Oil of Eden, which took her out of bed for the first time in several months, inside of a week. He also recommends it for neuralgia, sore throat and enlarged glands.

Mr. J. T. Rees, McPherson, Kan., writes: "I write concerning your Oil of Eden. While in Stockton I purchased a bottle for my rheumatism. It cured me, and after going back to Kansas I gave the remainder of the bottle to a lady friend, whom the doctors said they could not cure. In two weeks' time she walked over to my house to thank me for the good it had done her. Enclosed please find $2.00 for another bottle."

T. S. Hensley, Salem, Ore., writes: "I have suffered a great deal from dropsical swellings, and, until I bought a bottle of Oil of Eden and used it, had found no relief. And now, from practical experience, I do not hesitate to guarantee it to cure all diseases of a rheumatic nature."

W. H. Loomis, M. Sweet Spirits of Eden will positively purify the blood and cure chronic constipation, diseased digestion, nervous prostration, and restore lost vitality, caused by old age, sickness or over-taxation.

"Dr. John Kellett: Dear Sir—In reply to your inquiry, I will say that I have used all horse medicines known in the market, but have seen nothing to equal Oil of Eden in removing spavins, curbs and splints, while as to the curing of rheumatism, it has no equal. Yours respectfully.

Conrad Stricklin, Coyote Station, Cal., writes: "It is with pleasure I tell you and all of those it may benefit that Oil of Eden is a godsend, for it cured my son after being given up as incurable by the best physicians.
